- Data recovery measures and emergency plan in place and regularly tested
- Implementation of state-of-the-art backup methods such as: tape backup, data mirroring, and so on.
- Physical separation of the back up data. Data stored in the archive is saved using redundant systems.
- Uses a combination of full, differential, and cumulative backups to ensure data integrity and timely restoration
- Backup tapes are securely stored both on-site and off-site to provide protection against disaster and efficient data recovery
- Data is stored redundantly on multiple devices
- Integrity of stored data periodically verified

8. Separation and Purpose

The Data Processor shall take, among others, the following technical and organizational measures in order to ensure that data collected for different purposes are processed separately:

- Implementation of an authorization concept
- Logical separation of electronically stored customer data (on the software side) to ensure that each client's data is isolated from any other client's data
- A container architecture is in use

Abstract:
OBJETIVO: Identificar efectos de la violencia laboral en enfermeras a nivel intrahospitalario y las estrategias de afrontamiento y prevención de violencia laboral entre enfermeras.
MÉTODO: Revisión bibliográfica sistemática cualitativa. Se analizaron artículos publicados en las bases de datos PUBMED, Science Direct, Scielo y LILACS. La estrategia de búsqueda se realizó mediante descriptores en Ciencias de la Salud (DeCS) y el Medical Subject Headings (MeSH) con el operador booleano AND. Se utilizó el diagrama de flujo (PRISMA). La evaluación de la calidad metodológica se realizó mediante las fichas de lectura crítica disponibles en la Plataforma FLC 3.0. RESULTADOS: la violencia y el acoso laboral tienen efectos negativos sobre la salud física y mental, las relaciones interpersonales y en el desempeño laboral de los enfermeros. Entre las estrategias de afrontamiento de la persona que sufre violencia laboral se encuentran el análisis del problema, hablar con alguien de confianza, enfrentar al acosador e involucrar al sistema. Las medidas de prevención a nivel organizacional destacan las capacitaciones, la mejora de normas, establecimiento de sanciones al acosador y la vigilancia de estas situaciones. CONCLUSIÓN: La violencia laboral no solo repercute a la persona afectada, sino también a todo el sistema organizativo en salud. Se enfatiza la importancia de desarrollar medidas y estrategias preventivas de la violencia y acoso laboral. OBJECTIVE: To identify the effects of workplace violence on nurses at the intrahospital level and the coping strategies and prevention of workplace violence among nurses. METHODOLOGY: Qualitative systematic
